History’s Most Notorious Sinner Faces Judgment in University Theatre’s Production of ‘The Last Days of Judas Iscariot’

CORPUS CHRISTI, Texas – The University Theatre at Texas A&M-Corpus Christi will present the courtroom thriller “The Last Days of Judas Iscariot” from Tuesday, March 9, through Sunday, March 14, in the Warren Theatre in the Center for the Arts. Performances are at 8 p.m. with 2 p.m. Sunday matinees.

“The Last Days of Judas Iscariot” by American playwright Stephen Adly Guirgis tells the story of Judas as he awaits trial in purgatory. Whether Judas enters heaven or burns in hell rests upon the witness testimony of saints and sinners such as Satan, Pontius Pilate, Mother Teresa and Sigmund Freud.

Told in the poetic language of the streets of New York, “The Last Days of Judas Iscariot” contemplates the consequences of choice and the limits of forgiveness. Don Luna, professor and director of University Theatre, will direct the play performed by a cast of actors from the University Theatre Department.

“The Last Days of Judas Iscariot,” contains adult language and situations and is for mature audiences. Tickets are $8 for general admission; $7 for senior citizens and military; $5 for faculty/staff/students; and $3 for University students with their SandDollar$ card. Tickets can be purchased online at http://theatre.tamucc.edu/. For more information, call the University Theatre box office at 361.825.5800.
