TAMU-CC PRESENTS THE AWARD-WINNING DRAMA “BACK OF THE THROAT” WHICH EXAMINES RACIAL PROFILING IN A POST-9/11 SOCIETY

CORPUS CHRISTI, TEXAS: With BACK OF THE THROAT, the Texas A&M University Theatre Department delves into the catastrophic events following 9/11, including the institutional paranoia that ensued immediately thereafter. The production will run October 12-October 17, 2010 in the Warren Theatre in the Center for the Arts on the TAMUCC campus. Performances will begin at 8 with one Sunday matinee at 2.

BACK OF THE THROAT is a gripping play written by award-winning, Arab-American playwright, Yussef El Guindi. It is a drama about an Arab-American writer tangled up in post-9/11 suspicions in New York City following the destruction of the World Trade Centers. The production is directed by J. Don Luna, a professor and director at the university and performed by students from TAMUCC. BACK OF THE THROAT contains adult language and mature themes.

Tickets are $10 for adults, $6.50 for students, and $5 for TAMUCC students with a valid Sandollar$ ID. Tickets may be purchased online at http://theatre.tamucc.edu or in the Center for the Arts box office during the week of the show. For further questions or group sales, contact the University Box Office at 361.825.5800.
